

CONTENTS

Foreword by Anne Gregory xi

Foreword by Mike Regester xiii

Preface xv

Acknowledgements xvii

01 Reputation: what it is and why it matters 1

Defining reputation 2

Valuing reputation 5

From reputation management to reputation strategy 8

02 The challenging climate in which reputations are managed 10

Declining trust 10

Low risk tolerance 12

International regulation 14

Local and global expectations 16

The information ‘anarchy’ of traditional and social media 19

Empowerment and activism 23

Chapter summary 28

03 What are the risks to reputation? 31

04 Externally driven issues 37

Societal and political attention on a broad problem 38

Societal and political outrage at specific organizational behaviour/performance 41

Societal and political outrage at a ‘new’ risk imposed by an organization/sector 44

Challenges in managing externally driven issues 45

Chapter summary 52

05 Internally driven issues 57

The ‘proactive negative’ internal issue 60

The ‘proactive positive’ internal issue 62

The 'reactive positive' internal issue	64
The 'reactive negative' internal issue	67
Chapter summary	71

06 Externally driven incidents 73

An attack on you, or those in your care	75
An attack on a wider group affecting you	80
A political or social development endangering you, or those in your care	81
A natural event	86
Chapter summary	91

07 Internally driven incidents 96

Ten safety incidents that shaped crisis management today	98
Communications and the internal incident	104
Chapter summary	109

08 Interrelated risks 114

09 Managing reputation risk through the life cycle 118

10 Predicting reputation risk 123

The external reputation risk radar and horizon scanning	124
The internal reputation risk radar	126
Analysing risk	128
Reputation risk assessment	131
Lessons from the past	134
Chapter summary	140

11 Preventing reputation risk 142

Reputation risk architecture – 'hard' intervention	144
Behavioural change through 'soft' interventions	147
Corporate citizenship	148
Chapter summary	150

- 12 Preparing for acute reputation risk 151
Who should own and manage crisis preparedness? 152
What does a crisis-ready organization look like? 154
Chapter summary 177
- 13 Resolving risks to reputation 180
Issues management/issues resolution 180
Issues management process 185
Issues management competence 188
Issue strategy development 189
A (short) note on communicating risk 193
Change as an issue management strategy 197
Chapter summary 199
- 14 Responding to immediate reputation risk 203
Strategic crisis decision-making 204
The wider crisis communications response 209
Crisis media management 214
Communications working with other functions 230
Chapter summary 235
- 15 Recovering from reputation damage 240
Reviewing performance and improving preparedness 241
Rebuilding trust and reputation 246
Changing the organization 249
Chapter summary 251
- 16 Where next for crisis, issues and reputation management? 254

Index 257