

CONTENTS

Foreword by Tim Curran xii

Preface xv

Acknowledgements xviii

PART ONE Introduction 1

01 How to get the best out of this book 3

Who this book is for 3

What do we mean by business model? 6

How the book is set out 7

02 The business of getting technology products and services to market 9

Distribution matters 9

Challenging business dynamics 11

Business models are key to value propositions 17

A structured approach to positioning your value proposition 19

Be careful with comparisons 21

PART TWO Distributors and wholesalers 23

03 The role of the technology distributor 25

Distributors/wholesalers 25

Customer role – core functions 25

Supplier role 29

Vendor role – core functions 31

04 How the technology distributor business model works 35

Role defines business model 35

Profit is a very small number between two very big numbers 36

Managing working capital is a balancing act 37

The measures that matter and how to manage with them 39

05 Margins and profitability 41

- Multiple margins 41
- Gross margin and value add 41
- Margin mix or blended margin 44
- Contribution margin 48
- Net margin and operating margin 53

06 Working capital 56

- Working capital management 56
- Vendor credit 56
- Inventory 58
- Customer credit 61
- Working capital cycle 63

07 Productivity 67

- Earn and turn 67
- Contribution margin return on inventory investment 69
- Returns on working capital 72

08 Sustainability 77

- Sustainability – longer-term business health 77
- Return on net assets and return on capital employed 77
- Return on invested capital 78
- Value creation 80
- Managing value creation on an operational basis 86

09 Managing growth 89

- Growth dynamics 89
- Internally financed growth rate formula 89
- Economies of scale – profitability 91
- Economies of scale – working capital management 94
- Risks of growth – diseconomies of scale 96

10 The technology distribution landscape 97

- The global landscape 97
- Special characteristics and capabilities 99
- Recent trends and future outlook 106

11 How technology vendors can get the best from distribution 112

- The engagement process 113
- Managing the account relationship 119
- Some rules of thumb for making compelling business cases 124
- Summary 127

PART THREE Final-tier trade channel players 129

12 The roles of the final-tier trade channel players 131

- The final-tier trade channel players 131
- The possible roles of final-tier trade channel players 134
- Matching channel roles to channel players 138
- Different roles command different compensation models 141
- Customer advocates and sell-with players 146
- Sell-with players and strategic alliances 149
- Applying this framework to your sector or channel 150

13 How the business model of the final-tier trade channel players works 151

- Role defines business model 151
- Services come from people, either directly or indirectly (eg web-delivered) 152
- Managing a service business 154
- The web-based service business model 169
- Overview of service business model measures 171

14 Sales and utilization 175

- Sales 175
- Utilization 183

15 Gross margin and recoverability 189

- Gross margin 189
- Recoverability 193
- Measures for the web-based service model 195

16 Working capital management 197

The cash-to-cash cycle 197

Improving working capital 199

17 Value creation and growth 203

Value creation and improving the numbers 203

Managing growth – the integrated product and service business model 209

18 How to sell to final-tier trade channel players 212

What we mean by selling to final-tier trade channel players 212

Segmenting the final-tier trade channel 213

What the final tier looks for in a vendor 215

What the final tier looks for in a distributor 224

Managing the account relationship 228

Some rules of thumb for making compelling business cases 230

Selling ‘with’ the final tier in an advocacy role 233

Conclusion 234

PART FOUR Retailers 235

19 The role of retailers 237

Retailers and retailing 237

Online retailing and catalogue 243

20 How the retail business model works 250

Role defines business model 250

Earn and turn 256

Layout and planogramming 258

Ranging and merchandising 261

21 The measures that matter and how to manage with them 265

Sales (or takings or revenues) 265

Margins 269

Direct product cost (DPC) and direct product profitability (DPP)	274
Turns and productivity	277

22 How to sell to retailers 281

What we mean by selling to retailers	281
The sales process	281
Retailer challenges and their implications for suppliers	282
Managing retail relationships at a strategic level	291
Managing retail relationships at a tactical level	297
Selling in to the retailer's buying cycle and open-to-buy	303
Should you deal with retailers direct or through a wholesaler?	306
Summary	306
Key ratios	309
Glossary of technical terms	315
Index	325

Technology Distribution Channels: uncorrected proofs issued by marketing 10/07/2014.
This material is © Tegan Page 2014 and should not be redistributed.