

CONTENTS

About the author xii

Foreword by Nicola Mendelsohn CBE xiii

Acknowledgements xv

List of exercises xvi

Introduction 1

01 Fail fast 11

Fear of failure is natural 12

Failure in different work contexts 13

Optimism, hope and resilience 16

Fail fast, learn fast 19

Failing fast is not easy 22

Play a Stoic game – what could be worse? 23

Self-compassion 24

Exercises 26

Endnotes 30

02 Brain and body 31

Back to the beginning 31

The brain 32

Rebuilding your emotional brain 33

Developing a growth mindset 35

Mental health at work 36

The body 40

Resilient brains and resilient bodies 46

Exercises 47

Endnotes 51

03 Below the surface 52

The unconscious at work – what else is going on? 53

The psychodynamic perspective 54

Danger outside, danger inside 62

Defence mechanisms at work 63

Understanding your inner world 69

Exercises 71

Endnotes 74

04 Change, disruption and loss 76

Change, disruption and loss at work 76

Responding to change, loss and disruption at work 80

Lessons from the Stoics 80

Lessons from psychoanalysis 82

Change, limits and mindset 84

Flexibility, resilience and change 85

Exercises 92

Endnotes 97

05 Leadership 99

Leadership and resilience 99

How to be a resilient leader 102

Resilience as a leader and as a ‘follower’ 109

Particular resilience challenges for leaders 113

Developing resilience in yourself and others 117

Exercises 118

Endnotes 123

06 Conflict 124

Understanding conflict at work 124

Conflict and stress 126

Responding to conflict at work 130

The virtue of workplace conflict – can conflict be helpful? 132

Exercises 139

Endnotes 144

07 Purpose 146

What is purpose at work? 146

Why do you go to work? 149

Purpose and the development of resilience 150

Identity, purpose and resilience 153

Purpose and success 155

Finding your purpose 159

Exercises 162

Endnotes 165

08 Closing thoughts 167

Remembering your potential for resilience 168

Learned resilience 170

Situational resilience 171

Learning from others 172

Self-blame to self-care 175

The ABC of resilience 178

Difference and the puzzle of resilience 179

Bounce back, bounce forwards 181

What we have learnt 182

Exercises 184

Endnotes 191

Bibliography 193

Index 199