

Contents

About the author ix

Preface xi

Acknowledgements xiii

Introduction: How to explain what you do for a living to your neighbour 1

1 Instructions on how to get outside the box 7

There is a huge crisis 7

Freeing oneself from beliefs, attitudes and positions 8

Having the courage to think big 12

Perseverance, patience and passion 14

Studying is not about filling a bucket, it is about lighting a fire 16

2 Start...up! Start and start again 21

Don't shoot the startupper 21

One in a thousand makes it 22

The sky above Roncade 24

Where to start? 27

Eyes fixed on the same goal 27

Settling accounts 28

Commentary by Lorenzo Guidotti 31

3 Have a vision (even) without being a seer 33

Dreaming with your eyes wide open 33

When you least expect it 34

Join the dots 35

The idea is not enough 39

Commentary by Simon Beckerman 40

- 4 A camp bed in the office in order to go from zero to one 43
- Agent 00...1 43
- A goal is a dream with a project 45
- But how does the entrepreneur do all this? 48
(I can't get no) Satisfaction 51
- Small steps 52
- Commentary by Massimiliano Benedetti 53
- Note 55
-
- 5 Together we will go far... and also faster 57
- All for one 57
- Friends, never... or maybe? 59
- Union makes strength 61
- Guiding others to do great things 63
- Til death us do part (or almost) 67
- Commentary by Matteo Sarzana 69
-
- 6 Italians do it better? 71
- It's a small world! 71
- Think globally 73
- Different is beautiful 75
- The true Italian (but without a guitar in hand) 77
- Follow me 78
- Put your face on it 79
- Commentary by Emanuela Prandelli 81
-
- 7 The no's (and yes's) that help you to grow 83
- Are you going to keep letting yourself be chosen or are you finally going to do the choosing? 83
- Become desirable 86

- An overwhelming supremacy 87
- The brand's prestige 90
- The retail apocalypse 91
- What awaits us at the end of the catwalk 92
- Embracing change 94

- 8 Tell a story and spill the beans 97
 - To be present or not to be present? 97
 - Not lost in translation 100
 - In some cases numbers do not count 101
 - Use what you have 101
 - Great transparency... and a hint of cynicism! 103
 - Striking, or rather epic, failures 105
 - The only person you are destined to become is the person you decide to be 106
 - Are you going to keep being influenced, or are you finally going to influence? 108
 - Commentary by Chiara Magnaghi 110

- 9 A fire that does not go out 115
 - Long live evolution 115
 - Manoeuvring in port and sailing in open seas 116
 - Strategy and tactics 117
 - Learning to say goodbye 119
 - Self-confidence is not arrogance 121
 - Commentary by Luciano Bernardini De Pace 122

- 10 So have you made it now? 125
 - In bankruptcy school 125
 - What is success? What is failure? 128

CONTENTS

Tear down the walls... even those covered in chiffon 129
Faster than light 131
A promised land, a different world 133
Taking the podium 137
Commentary by Pierre-Yves Wecxsteen 140

Conclusion: From zero to infinity 141

Index 145