

Contents

List of figures and tables	viii
About the authors	x
Acknowledgements	xiii
Walkthrough of textbook features and online resources	xiv
Chapter 1 Designing, Delivering and Evaluating Learning and Development	1
1.1 Introduction	1
1.2 Structure and main themes of the book	2
1.3 Overview of the chapters linked to the CIPD's advanced standards	3
1.4 How to use this book	7
Chapter 2 Individual and Collective Learning	9
2.1 Introduction	9
2.2 Defining learning	9
2.3 Individual learning theory	10
2.4 Collective learning	20
2.5 Workplace learning theory	29
2.6 Conclusion	33
Chapter 3 The External and Internal Context	37
3.1 Introduction	37
3.2 The external context	37
3.3 The internal context	39
3.4 Developments in ICT	44
3.5 Barriers, inhibitors and facilitators of L&D	47
3.6 Conclusion	52
Chapter 4 Establishing Learning Needs	57
4.1 Introduction	57
4.2 Learning needs analysis and employee development	57
4.3 What is learning and development needs analysis (LNA)?	60
4.4 Sources of data	68
4.5 Learning needs analysis: current practice, implications and limitations	73
4.6 Conclusion	75
Chapter 5 Designing Learning Interventions	79
5.1 Introduction	79
5.2 What is learning?	80
5.3 The organisational perspective	81

5.4 The learners' perspective	86
5.5 The designer's perspective	92
5.6 Designing learning interventions	94
5.7 Conclusion	99
Chapter 6 Delivering and Facilitating Learning	101
6.1 Introduction	101
6.2 Defining and understanding ways of facilitating learning	102
6.3 Coaching and mentoring	107
6.4 Presentation and instructional skills	111
6.5 Giving and receiving feedback	113
6.6 Process and methods of blended learning and use of technology	118
6.7 Conclusion	123
Chapter 7 Evaluating Learning and Development	125
7.1 Introduction	125
7.2 The 'ideal' view of training evaluation	126
7.3 Easterby-Smith – the purposes of evaluation	127
7.4 Kirkpatrick's four levels model	128
7.5 Gagné's theory of instruction	129
7.6 Holton, Bates, Ruona – learning transfer system inventory	131
7.7 Anderson – the value of learning	134
7.8 Designing evaluation tools	135
7.9 Sources of data	136
7.10 The evaluation process	139
7.11 Stakeholder satisfaction	140
7.12 Barriers to evaluation	140
7.13 Timing of evaluation	141
7.14 The role of formative and summative assessment in evaluation	141
7.15 Conclusion	142
Chapter 8 Acting Professionally and Ethically	145
8.1 Introduction	145
8.2 Definition and understanding of ethics in learning and development	147
8.3 United Nations decade for education for sustainable development 2005–2014	149
8.4 Philosophical bases of ethics	150
8.5 Inclusivity – equality and diversity	152
8.6 Professionalism and professional practice	155
8.7 Business relationships	155
8.8 Personal integrity and honesty	156
8.9 Organisational examples	158

8.10 Ethics in learning and development practice	159
8.11 Continuing professional development	161
8.12 Conclusion	168
Chapter 9 Themes and the Future of DDE	171
9.1 Introduction	171
9.2 Some significant themes	171
9.3 Some speculations on the future for DDE	174
References	177
Index	197