Stop feeling afraid of unknowns and ‘wildcard’ events 31

Empower yourself to lead; don’t wait for permission or the right job title 34

Apply a new leadership intelligence framework and cultivate more relevant traits 37

PART THREE

Five key fundamentals of future shaping leadership intelligence 43

3 Preferable: establish your preferred future outcome 45

Imperative – understand your purpose and what is motivating you to act now 46

Imagine – explore all the ideas and possibilities 55

Identify – decide on the long-term strategic outcome
you want to achieve 60

4 Persuade: convince people to follow you 67

Inspire – communicate your vision and motivate others to follow you 69

Influence – understand the politics and where decision-making power lies 75

Investment – secure resources to build your team and finance your plans 81

5 Persist: be resilient and stay the course 87

Inner resolve – do you have what it takes to keep going? 89

Inhibitors – anticipate what may block your progress 93

Intrepidity – appreciate the role of failure as part of your learning journey 100

6 Prove: nurture successful teams and deliver the right results 107

Invigorate – rethink your approach to build a winning team 108

Include – foster more resilient teams via diversity and inclusion 116

Impress – achieve early wins and create positive spirals of success 119

7 Platform: power up your network and multiply your impact 129

Increase – grow your platform to maximize return on effort 130

Intensify – expand your personal power and enhance your reputation 141

Impact – merit alone is not sufficient; ignore politics at your peril 145
