

CONTENTS

List of Figures	x
List of Tables	xii
Foreword	xiii
What's New In This Edition?	xvii
Acknowledgements	xx

Introduction 1

01 Defining Generation Y 5

X, Y, Z: what's next?	6
The Millennial consumer in the United States	12
A cause without rebels: the new parent-child paradigm	13
Insane in the brain: teenage neurology	16
Stimulation junkies	20
A fragmented world	22
Crowd-sourcing and co-creation	25
A soap called 'ME': youth's new narcissism	27
Millennial myths: debunking conceptions of Gen Y	31
Conclusion	40

02 Developing a brand model for the new consumer 43

The power of word-of-mouth	43
The research base: 5,000 brand stories can't be wrong	45
The five success factors of Gen Y brands	45
CRUSH into practice: two case studies	48
Conclusion	55

03 What cool means to brands 57

Gen Y's definition of 'cool'	58
The magic cool formula	63
Not all categories are equally cool	67
How to make your brand cool	74
Is Gen Y loyal to cool brands?	79
How to find out what's cool	90
Peter Pandemonium: adults' desire to stay young and cool	97
Conclusion	99

04 The real thing: brand authenticity 101

- The roots of real: why brand authenticity is the ‘in’ thing 104
- True tales and crafted cult: how brands portray authenticity 108
- The first, the last, my everything: using indicators of origin 113
- Irony killed authenticity: Gen Y’s perception of authentic claims 115
- How Gen Y values honesty 121
- Chipotle Mexican Grill: cultivating fast food with integrity 126
- Conclusion 128

05 We all want unique brands 130

- How unique is your unique selling proposition? 130
- Brand DNA 133
- Love is a battlefield: identifying market drivers 137
- Brand mascots, somatic markers and memes 139
- Conclusion 147

06 Self-identification with the brand 149

- A quest called tribe: teens’ search for a fitting lifestyle 150
- Getting closer to youth 155
- Global citizens with a local identity 164
- Gen Y’s favoured brand personalities 171
- Conclusion 175

07 Happiness: Gen Y’s adoration for branded emotions 177

- We think less than we think: the central role of emotions 178
- You’re not the only one with mixed emotions: emotions related to brands 181
- How brands can tap into emotions 184
- Hijacks, hate and videotapes: when negative buzz takes over 190
- Don’t worry, be happy: arousing happiness through experiences 194
- Magic moments: brand activation and the gamification of marketing 198
- Magic spaces: pop-up stores 201
- Coca-Cola’s focus on happiness 203
- Conclusion 208

08 Generation Z 209

- Is Gen Z ready for the world? 209
- The fully digitalized generation 211
- Generation Z's influence on parents' purchases 212
- The snappy generation 213
- Dreaming of a better world 223
- Always embraces being #LikeAGirl 225
- Gen Z entrepreneurs want to make it 227
- We are perfectly imperfect 232
- Who we are 237
- What we are about 237

References 238

Index 271