

CONTENTS

About the authors viii

Foreword xii

Introduction 1

01 Developing professional practice in L&D 9

Mark Loon

- 1 Introduction 9
- 2 Professionalization 10
- 3 Current practice and expectations 12
- 4 Roles in L&D professional practice 21
- 5 Developing the L&D professional 36
- 6 Conclusion 61
- References 62

02 Understanding the context of L&D 66

Robin Bell and Mark Loon

- 1 Introduction 66
- 2 Sources of change 67
- 3 The nature of change 82
- 4 Industry, business and the nature of competition 89
- 5 Work and workforce 94
- 6 Learning and development 96
- 7 Shaping the organization's future 98
- 8 Conclusion 100
- 9 Points for reflection 101
- References 101

03 Using information, metrics and developing business cases for L&D 104

Mark Loon

- 1 Introduction 104
- 2 The nature of a business case 107

COPYRIGHT MATERIAL
NOT TO BE REPRODUCED

3 Subject, purpose and background	110
4 Business case team and tools	120
5 Designing the business case	124
6 Developing the business case	136
7 Reporting the findings	141
8 Summary	147
9 Points for reflection	149
References	150

04 Developing and using consultancy skills 151

Ruth Sacks and Mark Loon

1 Introduction	151
2 What is consultancy?	154
3 What exactly do consultants do?	156
4 Managing stakeholder relationships and communication strategies	165
5 The consultancy project	173
6 Doing the work	182
7 Ending a consultancy project	198
8 Points for reflection	205
References	205

05 Enhancing participant engagement in the learning process 207

Jan Myers

1 Introduction	207
2 Individual orientations to learning	208
3 Theory and practice of motivation	210
4 Influences of positive psychology	215
5 Different approaches to learning	219
6 Strategies, processes and tools to enhance participation and engagement	229
7 From individual to organizational learning	237
8 Summary and reflection	240
Further reading	240
Glossary of terms	241
References	242

COPYRIGHT MATERIAL
NOT TO BE REPRODUCED

06 Designing and developing digital and blended learning solutions 247

Mark Loon

- 1 Introduction 247
- 2 Digital technologies 249
- 3 A framework to guide the use of digital technologies for learning 272
- 4 Principles in the design and development of digital learning 281
- 5 Designing and developing blended learning 288
- 6 Conclusion 295
- Further reading 296
- References 297

07 Facilitating collective and social learning 301

Michael Bagshaw

- 1 Introduction 301
- 2 Learning together: the new paradigm of learning 302
- 3 Types of collective and social learning 305
- 4 Creating a culture of collective and social learning 310
- 5 Collective and social learning processes and tools 318
- 6 Social media and learning 334
- 7 Mentoring, coaching and leadership for collective and social learning 336
- 8 Conclusion 340
- References 341

08 Developing and delivering L&D solutions for international markets 345

Sa'ad Ali and Mark Loon

- 1 Introduction and background 345
- 2 Macro factors and L&D in an international context 348
- 3 The impact of national cultures on L&D 358
- 4 Developing the 'global' L&D professional 371
- 5 Summary and points for reflection 384
- References 385

09 Future directions 389

References 392

COPYRIGHT MATERIAL
NOT TO BE REPRODUCED