

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements xi

Introduction 1

01 Revolutionize your career 6

Connectional intelligence 6

The Matrix moment 7

Career strategy: What leads to a career you love? 8

Skill stacking 9

Beware invisible scripts 10

The biggest thing you have ever done 12

Power: How to get it 12

Double down on what's working 14

The power of the interview 15

Avoid shiny object syndrome 16

Say yes, then no 17

What the market wants 17

Imagine you are hiring 18

Your relationship with money 19

Ambition 20

Accessing networks 20

Complementing others 21

Embrace uncertainty 22

The adventure mindset 22

Conclusion: There is only one YOU 23

Works cited 24

02 Build a strong foundation 25

Mental foundations 25

Energy foundations 33

Credibility foundations	38
Conclusion	41
Works cited	41

03 Optimizing your creativity 43

A creative adventure	45
The beginners	45
Separate the generation and evaluation of ideas	46
Creative confidence	47
Creative teams	51
Constrain your thinking	52
Movement and creativity	54
Solve your own problems	57
Showing up	58
Creativity is powerful	60
Works cited	60

04 Do your best work 63

What this chapter is about	63
What my best work looked like five years ago	65
What is the most important work?	66
Determining prolific quality output	67
Meaning and motivation	67
Deep work	68
Grit	68
Morning routine	69
Daily schedule	70
Example: How I approach my workday while travelling	71
Biological cycles and recovery	73
Eliminate distractions	74
Should you quit social media?	75
How do people end up passionate about their work?	75
Training your focus	75
Intention	76
Flow states	76
Cognitive misers	77

Showing up 78
Collaboration 79
Saying no 79
Delegate 80
Invest now in saving your time later 80
Conclusion 82
Works cited 82

05 Accelerate your learning 84

How I approached learning sales as a skill 85
Have a reason for learning 86
Deliberate practice 86
Embrace the struggle 87
Deconstruction 88
Topic immersion 89
Mentors 91
Getting good feedback 93
Progressive mastery 93
An MIT computer science degree in one year 95
Learning and biology 95
Memory palaces 96
The importance of recall 97
Linking to remember names 97
Spaced repetition 98
Sleep: Lock in the knowledge 98
Commonplace books 99
Derek Sivers' directives 100
Visualization and rehearsal 100
Chapter summary 101
Works cited 102

06 Telling your story 103

Wired for story 105
The stories you tell yourself 106
Telling a good story in person 106
Using stories when doing an interview 107

Elevator pitch	108
Public speaking	109
Contrast while speaking	110
Storytelling online	112
Common ground storylines	113
Tell powerful stories	115
The chocolate secret	115
Your about page and bio	116
Your audience is the hero of your story	117
Conclusion	117
Works cited	118

07 Portraying your best self: the science of charisma and confidence 119

Why developing charisma is an important skill	119
What is charisma and who has it?	120
How charisma affects success	121
Elements of charisma	122
Body language components	124
Voice	127
Posture	128
Hands and touch	129
Create an internal state of charisma	130
Managing your internal state	131
Eliminating barriers to charisma	132
Great first impressions	132
Confidence	133
International body language	137
Works cited	138

08 Strategic relationships 139

The experts featured in this chapter	140
Strategic relationships	141
Maximizing your effort – meeting superconnectors	142
Have a clear goal and get in the right room	143
How many relationships should you aim for?	145

Your network gives you options	145
Connecting with people online	146
Relationship building example: moving to a new country	147
How to take advantage of Facebook groups	148
How I use podcasting as a relationship-building tool	149
Preparing for conferences or events	150
What to do if you are nervous about meeting people	152
Curating experiences and events	153
Starting a new relationship	155
Tools to enhance your relationship building	156
The art of asking – let people help you	158
How to turn relationships into business opportunities	159
How I networked my way into graduate school	161
Conclusion	162
Works cited	162

09 Think big 163

Crazy is a compliment	164
Leverage	165
You don't have to see all the steps	165
Build conviction	166
You need a team	167
Find out where your vision is limited	168
Planning big	169
Planning your skills	170
Understand worst-case scenarios	170
Who is your dream for?	171
Getting more from your dreams	172
Help other people dream big	172
Highlight the bright spots	173
What social level are your dreams?	174
Should you share your dreams?	175
Own your awesome	176
The 'What if?' game	176
Conclusion	177
Works cited	178

10	Fun and games	179
	The value of delight	182
	Excitement pulls you forward	183
	Play as part of our humanness	183
	Play in science and innovation	184
	Strategic play	185
	Fun created Walmart	186
	The happiness of pursuit	186
	Gamification	187
	The importance of healthy competition	189
	Crowdsourced innovation	190
	A framework for thinking	191
	Gamification as a personal tool	192
	Your life as a sport	194
	Play and flow	196
	Conclusion	197
	Works cited	197
	Index	199