

CONTENTS

The Contributors xiii

Preface xxix

Preface to the second edition xli

PART ONE The Luxury Market 1

01 The market and business of luxury: an introduction 3

Günter Müller-Stewens and Benjamin Berghaus

Introduction 4

The luxury market 5

Luxury management 18

Research in luxury 35

Sources of the contemporary luxury research stream 40

Notes 53

02 Classifying luxury and prodigality 63

Michael Jäckel

Introduction 63

Classifying luxury and prodigality – a proposal 65

Historical examples 66

Cycles of acceptance 69

Conclusion 71

Notes 72

03 Exploring luxury consumer behaviour 75

Prokopis Theodoridis and Sofia Vassou

Introduction 75

The notion of luxury 77

Consumer motivation 80

Conclusion	83
Key points	84
Notes	85

04 Identity-driven luxury brand management 87

Klaus Heine

Introduction	88
The concept of brand identity	89
The functional component of the luxury brand identity	91
The symbolic component of luxury brand identity: creating symbolic meaning	95
The case of Mont Charles de Monaco	99
Conclusion	100
Key points	101
Notes	102

PART TWO Luxury Brand Strategy 105

05 Public luxury representatives 107

Michael Breazeale, Christopher R Long and Daniela Ott

Introduction	108
What research tells us	109
Practical implications of our findings	113
Conclusion	116
Key points	117
Notes	118

06 Curating the creative genius in luxury firms 119

Charles Aaron Lawry and Sabrina Helm

Introduction	120
Succession management	121
What is curation?	122
The art of curation	123
Conclusion	128
Key points	129
Notes	130

- 07 Arts meet luxury brands 133
Carsten Baumgarth, Nicole Lohrisch and Olga Louisa Kastner
Introduction 133
Literature review on branding and arts: a snapshot 135
Typology of arts-luxury brands collaborations 137
Conclusion 144
Key points 145
Notes 146
- 08 Luxury as societal mentor 149
George Panigyrakis and Eirini Koronaki
Introduction 149
Pillars of cultural cultivation 152
Conclusion 158
Key points 161
Notes 161
- 09 Preserving luxury exclusivity through arts 163
Claude Chailan and Ivan Valek
Introduction 163
Analysis 165
Interpretation 171
Conclusion 174
Key points 175
Notes 176
- 10 Brand charismatic legitimacy and marketing of adoration 177
Delphine Dion and Eric Arnould
Introduction 178
Charismatic legitimacy 179
The marketing of adoration 180
Staging charismatic legitimacy in store 181
Conclusion 184
Key points 185
Notes 186

11 Digital media in monobrand stores 187*Marcus Schögel and Timo Tischer*

Introduction 188

Digital media applications in monobrand stores 189

The luxury brands' perspective – key challenges 196

Conclusion 199

Key points 201

Notes 201

PART THREE Luxury Business Strategy 203

12 The Chinese market: entry modes 205*Rui Wang, Kaibin He and Yue Wen*

Introduction 205

Pre-WTO market entry strategies (1978–2003) 207

Post-WTO market entry strategies (2004–13) 210

Conclusion 213

Key points 215

Notes 215

13 Entering the Chinese market 217*Rui Wang, Kaibin He and Yue Wen*

Introduction 217

Pricing strategy 218

Marketing communication strategy 219

Channel strategy 222

Product adaptation strategy 225

Conclusion 226

Key points 227

Notes 227

14 Managing brand extensions in the luxury industry 229*Klaus-Peter Wiedmann, Christiane Klarmann, Nadine Hennigs,
Stefan Behrens and Alexander Stigelski*

Introduction 230

Conceptualization 231

Results and discussion 237

Implications for management practice	239
Conclusion	240
Key points	241
Notes	242

15 Managing luxury brands in the digital environment 245

Elisa Arrigo

Introduction	246
The digital evolution of luxury brands	247
Digital opportunities for luxury brands	253
Conclusion	259
Key points	261
Notes	261

16 Competing as a luxury SME 265

France Riguelle and Didier Van Caillie

Introduction	266
Strategic issues for luxury SMEs	267
Conclusion	274
Key points	275
Notes	276

17 Insisting on luxury to survive 281

Michael Reinhold and Emil Annen

Introduction	281
Leica	282
Luxury strategy	286
Leica brand management today	290
Conclusion	296
Key points	297
Notes	298

18 Managing price fluctuations of raw materials through innovation 299

Anne-Flore Maman and Camille Depigny

Introduction	300
High jewellery: a specific industrial sector in luxury	301

Price fluctuations in raw materials	306
Innovation as the solution	309
Conclusion	314
Key points	316
Notes	317

19 The Counterfeit Timer® 319

Anne-Flore Maman

Introduction	320
The framework: The Counterfeit Timer®	321
The supply/offer side	323
The demand side	327
Conclusion	331
Key points	332
Notes	332

20 Acting on luxury counterfeiting 335

Ludovica Cesareo and Alberto Pastor

Introduction	335
A comprehensive anti-counterfeiting framework: company strategies and actions	338
Conclusion	349
Key points	351
Notes	351
References for Table 20.1	353

21 Luxury brands as employers 355

Verena Batt and Benjamin Berghaus

Introduction	355
Drivers of luxury employer attractiveness	357
Implications	362
Conclusion	368
Key points	369
Notes	369

22 The impact of luxury brands on employees 373*Benjamin Berghaus and Sven Reinecke*

Introduction 374

Luxury brand impact on behaviour 375

Connecting the motivation structure to psychological theory 377

Conclusion 383

Key points 384

Notes 385

PART FOUR Luxury Responsibility 389

23 Heritage of luxury and responsibility 391*Duane Windsor*

Introduction 392

Affluence and luxury 393

Conspicuous consumption and the affluent class 394

Philanthropy and taxation of affluence and wealth 396

Voluntary responsible luxury 398

Conclusion 401

Key points 402

Notes 403

24 Luxury organizations and responsibility: a toolbox 407*Farah Montesa and René Rohrbeck*

Introduction 408

Defining the levels 410

A toolbox for advancing corporate sustainability 413

Guide to a responsible company 416

Conclusion 418

Key points 418

Notes 419

25 Luxury organizations and social responsibility: a case study 421

David S Waller and Anurag G Hingorani

Introduction 422

Luxury brands and CSR 423

Moët Hennessy Louis Vuitton 424

Implications 431

Conclusion 434

Key points 435

Notes 435

Index 439