

CONTENTS

About the author ix

Acknowledgements xi

List of figures and tables xiii

List of abbreviations xv

Preface xix

01 Setting the scene for the next-generation technology procurement 1

1.1 Technology is at the heart of Procurement 4.0 2

1.2 Evolution of the procurement organizational model 6

1.3 Procurement battle plan 9

1.4 Changes in technology departments and their perception of the new procurement 12

References 16

02 Four pillars of technology procurement 19

ITIL service lifecycle 21

Project management lifecycle 23

Strategic procurement process 26

TCO of a technology service 42

2.4 Four pillars mapped together: integrated planning in technology procurement 49

References 52

03 Technology basics for procurement professionals 55

Cloud computing model 56

Software development: build or buy? 71

Software licensing basics 81

Software support and maintenance 92

Summary view of technological options and associated costs 96
References 96

04 Relationship management in procurement 99

Management of relationships with technology suppliers 99
Stakeholder relationship management 114
Relationship management in negotiations 128
Corporate social responsibility and relationships with community 132
Conflict resolution 135
References 137

05 Deep dive into the procurement process 139

Step 1: Initiate a sourcing project 139
Step 2: Identify business needs and study the market 139
Step 3: Specify requirements 148
Step 4: Define a sourcing strategy 149
Step 5: Select a supplier and award a contract 151
Step 6: Manage a contract and supplier relationship 191
Step 7: Review results and close 195
Source-to-contract process 195
References 196

06 Practical advice and case studies on technology procurement 199

SaaS commercial checklist 201
Success factors for technology projects 202
Case studies 207
References 223

07 US legislation and regulation on agile deployment and contracting and performance-based management 225

Attributes of Agile by GAO 225
Flexibility permitted by the Federal Acquisition
Regulation (FAR) 228

Modular contracting 230

Performance-based management of technology projects 238

References 243

08 Procurement 3.1: Agile, Lean, and value delivery today 245

The path to procurement agility 246

Lean management 265

Procurement digitalization 272

Value generation 275

Change management and communication 285

References 289

09 Conclusion 293

References 295

Index 297